~~Multimodal Discourse: The Modes and Media of Contemporary~~ ~~Multimodal discourse analysis is an approach that looks at multiple modes of communication such as text, color, and images. It is a method of discursive analysis that looks at not just how individual modes communicate, but how they interact with one another to create semiotic meaning. Kress (2010) states further that, "Using three modes in one sign - writing and image and colour as well - has real benefits.~~

~~(PDF) Multi-Modal Critical Discourse Analysis~~ ~~Multimodality is the application of multiple literacies within one medium. For example, understanding a televised weather forecast involves understanding spoken language, written language, weather specific language, geography, and symbols. Multiple literacies or "modes" contribute to an audience's understanding of a composition. Everything from the placement of images to the organization of the content to the method of delivery creates meaning. This is the result of a shift from isolated text be~~

It has examined print genres as well as genres such as web pages, film and television programs. it considers how multimodal texts are designed and how semiotic tools such as color, framing, focus and positioning elements contribute to the making of meaning in the text.~~

~~Multimodal discourse analysis | SlideShare~~ ~~Product Information. 'Multimodal Discourse' outlines a theory of communication for the age of interactive multimedia and multi-skilling. Just as the demarcation lines between specialised jobs are blurring in contemporary society, so are the demarcation lines between modes and media of communication. This requires a new way of thinking - it requires a practice in which designers can freely move between different modes and media, and a theory whose concepts and ideas can do the same.~~
